IV. Exhaustion of Available Remedies

15. Plaintiff have exhausted all of his administrative remedies before filing this complaint.

V. Factual Statement

16. On November of 2021 through April 25, 2022 Plaintiff, Obadyah BEN-YISRAEL

had got injured from showering, drinking and consuming contaminated water that has legionella bacteria and other possible bacteria and chemical contaminates that are from old lead piping that are decades old at Pendleton Correctional Facility.

17. The Plaintiff injuries are cough, headaches, abdomen pains, muscle aches, shortness of breath, nausea, cold chills, fever and diarrhea, stool complications, cardiovascular problems and possible kidney problems. These injuries came from the Defendants' Eric J. Holcomb, Robert E. Carter, Jr., Dr. Dauss, Dennis Reagal, Indiana Department of Corrections and Centurion Medical Provider policies and practices and their failure to treat the plaintiff injuries from contaminated water, and as of April 25, 2022 the Defendants still has shown total disregard to address the Plaintiff injuries.

18. Defendants Eric J. Holcomb, Robert E. Carter, Jr., Dr. Daus, Dennis Reagal, Indiana Department of Corrections and Centurion Medical Provider was liable from their policies, practices and customs and they were deliberately indifferent in making sure that there is an adequate number of the Indiana Department of Corrections employees and the Centurion Medical Provider employees to transport the Plaintiff to a medical department to be seen by a nurse and a physician after the Plaintiff had experienced cough, headaches, abdomen pains, muscle aches, shortness of breath, nausea, cold chills, fever, diarrhea, stool complications, cardiovascular problems and possible kidney problems. These injuries came from the contaminated water at the prison. Pendleton Correctional Facility is short-staffed.

19. Defendants Eric J. Holcomb, Robert E. Carter, Jr., Dr. Daus, Dennis Reagal, Indiana Department of Corrections and Centurion Medical Provider was liable from their policies, practices and customs and they were deliberately indifferent in making sure that the old lead piping at Pendleton Correctional Facility were replaced after receiving reports from the Plaintiff that the water was contaminated and also receiving reports from outside private contractors and the news media that the water was contaminated. The Defendants had cared less to remedy the problem with the old lead piping.

20. Defendants Eric J. Holcomb, Robert E. Carter, Jr., Dr. Dauss, Dennis Reagal, Indiana Department of Corrections and Centurion Medical Provider was liable from their policies, practices and customs and they were gross when they had retaliated against the Plaintiff, Obadiah BEN-YISRAEL when they continue to deny the Plaintiff medical care when the Plaintiff was experiencing cough, headaches, abdomen pains, muscle aches, shortness of breath, nausea, cold chills, fever, diarrhea, stool complications, cardiovascular problems and possible kidney problems. The Defendants had treated the Plaintiff as a nuisance because the Plaintiff kept constantly seeking medical care from the Defendants because the Plaintiff was in pain from consuming and showering with contaminated water.

21. Upon information and belief one incarcerated man had died from contaminated water and five men incarcerated at the prison had been hospitalized for treatment. Please see Exhibit A, that is attached to the back of this complaint.

22. All the Defendants Eric J. Holcomb, Robert E. Carter, Jr., Dr. Dauss, Dennis Reagal, Indiana Department of Corrections and Centurion Medical Provider through their policies, practices and customs when they had violated 42 U.S.C. § 300f et. seq. (1974) The Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA) when they failed to have quality of drinking water at Pendleton Correctional Facility that injured the Plaintiff when he had consumed and bathed from the contaminated water. Please see Exhibit B, that is attached to the back of this complaint.
